RURAL INTERESTS.

The sale of public land by Don Gabriel O'Campo on last Thursday awakens us all to the fact that our valuations of camp property are far below its intrinsic worth. The legal valuation of our public lands affords no basis to guide the judgment when property which the law values at $60,000 the league is sold at public auction at five and six times that price; and nothing can be more ridiculous than the position of those estancieros who came to town to attend the auction, prepared to pay $250,000, which was slightly over the Government price for the first lot of four square leagues, that was knocked down by the auctioneer in less than fifteen minutes for $1,236,000 m|c. The astonishment of the auctioneer, the bewildered gaze of some of the brokers who attended with orders to buy the land, and the steady determination of the purchasers to have the property, were incidents, amusing as instructive, that marked this remarkable sale.

It is now about sixteen years since a public sale, almost of a similar character, took place in this city. The property was situated in the Partido of Las Heras; it was sold under the Cabildo, by order of the Court; the legal valuation we forget, but we shall ever remember the bewildered excitement of the escribano, auctioneer and bidders when a square league of land was purchased by an Irish sheepfarmer for $1,000,000 m|c. The news spread like lightning through the town that night; the sale was spoken of in the Progreso, in President Mitre's house, and in the Colon Theatre. The Irishman who purchased the land at such a figure was not only regarded as ill-advised, but half witted, and yet the wisdom of that purchase is now as obvious to all as are the errors of his criticisers. That land to-day would certainly fetch double what it cost in 1864, and be considered cheap at that price.

The sale of public land by Don Gabriel O'Campo is, however, a much more remarkable business when we take into consideration the relative positions of the properties. Las Heras is a partido close to town and connected by railway; it boasts of that rich, soft pasturage so peculiar to the sheepfarms of Buenos Ayres, and $1,000,000 m|c. for a square league of land in that favourite and convenient partido is far cheaper than $326,000 for a square league of land beyond the Sierra of Tapalquen or in the vast prairies of the Tres Arroyos.

A glance at the map of Buenos Ayres will show our readers the immense stretch of estancia land that extends from Tandil to Bahia Blanca, and which comes under the category, at least as far as we understand the map of Buenos Ayres, of the Tres Arroyos. Within the last five years these lands have become greatly settled upon; well watered, with rich, soft grasses, and for the most part Government property, they afforded great inducements to the estancieros of the South, whose lands were too thickly stocked. So late as last year we saw real-estate brokers on the Bolsa explaining to some purchasers of the Banda Oriental the various estancias marked in that district, and the average price asked for the very best did not exceed $120,000 m|c. the league; but Mr. Ocampo's sale establishes new figures for these lands; and if the purchasers at his auction were well-known city capitalists, the sale would have had far less significance for the public. But when estancieros whose names were never before heard of in this market, and which resist every attempt at Hibernization, come up to this city and, without the aid of a Bolsa broker or an escribano, pay down $326,000 m|c. for what the law says is only worth $60,000 m|c., we see the prosperity of the country reflected more in the purchasing power of the camp estanciero than if £10,000,000 sterling fresh capital were brought into the country and forced down to the Tres Arroyos for investment.

It is proven beyond the possibility of contradiction that no property in this country gives such returns to the owners as a wellmanaged estancia; and the great prosperity of the present season is not limited to Italian jobbers who bought up the Irishman's wool, to exporters who shipped it, or to the private banks who hold such large balances lying in Europe; it is spread over the whole country, from Lincoln to Patagones. Never before did the lands of Buenos Ayres yield such a revenue to their owners; and, to our view, the importance of Mr. Ocampo's sale is centreed more in the character of the buyers than in the nature or quality of the very lands that were sold.

It may interest many to know that, notwithstanding the very high price of wool and the rapid increase of sheep in favourable seasons, opinion is divided as to which pays better, a cattle estancia or a sheepfarm. We believe that in the South the cattle-farm is preferred. Within the last few years cattle-farming in Buenos Ayres has undergone great improvement and great change. The fencing and wiring of estancias and the importation of prize English bulls have worked as great a change in the 'rodeos' on the estancias as the crossing of the flocks with Sheridan and Harrat's Merino rams, or Hannah's Rambouillets. Cattle no longer wander over the country, mixing with 'rodeos' and giving endless trouble to part them and bring them back to their owners. Drysdale's wire fence has given to a 'rodeo' a certain value, and Nash's and Kemmis's bulls have increased that value. The reformation effected by these causes is as yet too fresh to be well ascertained, but in a couple of years more the real results of the methodization of our cattle-farms will begin to tell, and one hundredfold, on the agricultural prosperity of the country. Already we have an inkling of what is coming in this sale of public lands by Mr. Ocampo. Lucky the men who have secured their estancia lands at the prices hitherto going. The days, we should say, are past when a square league of land able to feed 2000 head of horned cattle can be purchased in any part of this province under $200,000 m|c., no matter how far remote, excepting, of course, that undiscovered bourne, Rio Negro.

If we consider the prospects of the sheepfarmers of Buenos Ayres, we find many facts which lead us to suppose that next year's wool season will be fully as prosperous as the one now drawing to a close. That the consumption of wool throughout the world has overtaken the production is not only evidenced by the price of the staple in the European and American markets, but also by the figures that come to us in the brokers reports by the mail. Messrs. J. L. Bowes and Bros. of Liverpool give in one of their last circulars the most exhaustive tables of the wool production of the different countries and of the whole world. These figures are nothing else but a notice to the Buenos Ayrean public to secure flocks of sheep and grow wool, since from one cause or other, not only has the world's wool yield diminished but, due to emigration and the improved condition of millions of the human race, and the requirements of the Tiro Nacionales of Europe, and immense standing armies, the consumption or use of woollen clothes has enormously increased with the last decade.

We can conceive no subject of higher importance to the Plate than the one under consideration, yet it receives far less attention from the public than our fatiguing and never ending political disputes; and whilst the energy of the country is directed to the formation of rifle companies etc., our fertile lands jump from our grasp, we are outbidden by a class that is half ignored, and the camp man from the Tres Arroyos startles us by his bids, which turn to mockery our public land laws and their valuations.

To prove our assertion respecting the falling off in the production of wool throughout the world, we give the following tables from Messrs Bowes' & Bros. circular, Liverpool, dated 15th January 1880.

European Import of River Plate wools only—

	1879	1877
Liverpool	1,853	6,216
London	—	156
Antwerp	122,997	166,198
Havre	90,104	72,335

Marseilles	1,950	3,938
Bremen	8,536	5,730
Total bales	230,959	264,286

These figures show how much has been the decline in the production of River Plate wools since 1876, but now let us see the decline in production in Australian, which will still further bear us out in our remarks.

The figures given below respecting the production of Australasian, Cape, and River Plate wool show the receipts into the countries of consumption during the years named, and these indicate the growth of the preceding year. The check which production received in 1877, the first since the industry attained important proportions, was, to some extent, recovered in the succeeding year. It will be seen that Japan has commenced to import wool for manufacture, having taken 774 bales last year from Melbourne.

Production of wool in Australasia, Cape of Good Hope, and the River Plate, as shown by the receipts into Europe, the United States, Canada, and Japan;

In bales—

	1879	1877
Australasian	830,708	842,718
Cape	200,235	184,642
River Plate	238,634	278,120
	1,269,577	1,305,480

In millions of pounds, in the condition in which it is clipped—

	1879	1877
Australasian	279½	284
Cape	52½	47½
River Plate	191	222½
	523	554½

In millions of pounds, with allowance for shrinkage—

Cape	37	34
River Plate	66½	77½
	260½	270½

Movements in Europe of Australasian, River Plate, and Cape of Good Hope wool—

	1879	1877
	Bales	Bales
Stock of Australasian, Cape, and R. Plate wool, held by Importers, 1st January	89,464	63,679
Import during the year	1,239,614	1,272,132
	1,329,078	1,334,811
Deliveries during the year	1,281,795	1,225,865
Stock held by Importers, in Europe, 31st December	47,283	108,946

A fuller and more accurate comparison of the consumption of clothing wool in England and on the Continent is made in the following figures, for they include the receipts of River Plate wool, nearly all of which goes to Belgium and France, and is consumed there; in another respect, also, these figures give a more correct idea, because the quantities are reduced to a state of absolute purity; they also are given in millions of pounds:—

	1877	1879
Australasian, Cape and River Plate, received into Europe	263½	257½
Consumed in England	88½	72½
Consumed on the Continent	175½	184½
Consumed in England	33½ o/o	28½ o/o

The Savoie's Mails

February 16th.

The Times' correspondent, telegraphing from Candahar on the 7th inst., states that reports have reached there of a second and more bloody struggle between the rival parties at Herat. Local troops are said to have attacked the Cabulis there unawares and inflicted heavy loss on them before the latter brought artillery to bear upon their assailants, when the Heratis were defeated with great slaughter.

The Commander-in-Chief leaves Calcutta for Peshawur about the 20th inst. He will take command in the field in the spring.

The Government of the Transvaal will be administered by Col. Lanyon, C.B., C.M.G., pending the arrival of Sir Garnet Wolseley in England, when the whole question of the future Government of our South African possessions will be discussed at the Colonial Office.

The trial of Francis Otero Gonzalez for having made an attempt to shoot the King and the Queen of Spain on the 30th of December last, took place at Madrid on the 7th. About 200 persons were present, including many members of the legal profession and a number of workmen. The Crown Prosecutor, in addressing the Court, dwelt upon the grave circumstances attending the crime, and asked that sentence of death should be passed on the prisoner. The counsel for the defence endeavoured to prove that the prisoner was not responsible for his action at the time of the attempt, that he had acted without premeditation, and that he entertained neither treasonable thoughts nor any intention to kill the King. Judgment has not yet been given.

A telegram from London of the afternoon of the 9th states that a fearful explosion has occurred on board the steamship Columbine, at Cardiff, two men being killed and seventeen wounded.

The steamer Hankow, from Australia and Gibraltar, arrived off Plymouth under sail; she was disabled and could not enter the harbour on the morning of the 8th inst: great fears was entertained that her anchors would not hold.

Her Majesty's screw frigate Newcastle was to leave Lisbon on the 9th inst. for Teneriffe and thence to England.

The Board of Trade Inquiry into the loss of the steamer W. H. Atkinson, of South Shields, belonging to the Tyne, shows she struck on a rock near Gibraltar and filled rapidly. The fires were extinguished, and she shortly afterwards foundered, the crew being saved by taking to the boats. The Court found Capt. Sinclair Hughson in default, and suspended his certificate for six months, but recommended granting him a first mate's certificate during that time.

A bequest of about £30,000 has been left by Miss Janet Marshall, of Bridge of Allan, who died a few days ago, for the establishment of an Industrial Training Institution for the benefit of destitute boys in the counties of Lanark and Stirling.

The Moorish Embassy embarked at Marseilles on the 8th inst, on its return to Tangier.

A rumour was current at Rome that the Italian Irredentas are organizing an attack on Southern Tyrol, and that the Cabinet has warned the Austro-Hungarian Government to be in readiness to oppose their advance across the frontier should the Italian authorities themselves be unable to prevent it.

The Golos of St. Petersburg, of the 8th in inst., announces that in a synagogue at Siedltse a large stock of cartridges has been found belonging to two Hebrews, who have been placed under arrest.

St. Petersburg 10.—The Agence Russe says that the Empress's state of health will most probably prevent the visit of Foreign Princes to the capital to congratulate the Czar on the anniversary of his accession to the throne.

Constantinople, 10.—Yesterday a terrible accident occurred in the barracks at Beiers, a village on the Bosphorus, at a little distance from the capital. On account it is believed of the bad repair of the building, it fell down without any warning when it was fully occupied. The number of soldiers and officers found dead among the ruins was more than 200, and more than 300 were wounded.

London, 11.—This morning's Times says that the English Government has authorized the occupation of Herat by Persia under certain conditions.

Liverpool, 11.—The ship Valentine has foundered close to the Lizard Point, and 26 persons have perished.

THE "ILLUSTRIOUS STRANGER."

The scene of this piece, the third on the programme of the comic performance for the Irish Relief Fund, is laid on an island off the Malabar coast, and opens with a dialogue between Alibajon and Gimbo, two Englishmen, who had been wrecked on the island some years before, and who, by dint of practising on the duplicity of the natives, had succeeded in reaching exalted positions in the State: the former that of Physician to the Royal Household, and the latter the post of Royal Undertaker and Embalmer.

At this time the island was threatened by an invasion of the Japanese. The oracles of Brahma and Vishnu had declared that an Illustrious Stranger would land upon the island, and his marriage with the Princess Irza was the only means of saving the country from the inroads of their Malabar neighbours. The King offers a lac of rupees to any one who will discover this Illustrious Stranger, when a violent storm arises—signals of distress are heard, and Gimbo hastens to the beach, where he finds a shipwrecked mariner who has just been cast ashore, and in whom he recognizes an old chum, Patrick Bowbell, an Irishman, and tells him what is in store for him. The King arrives on the scene, and Patrick is immediately installed as Prince of the realm and husband to the Princess Irza, who detests him heartily, being in love with the young Prince Azan, who has been banished from the country for trying to subvert the marriage laws, which condemn the husband to be buried alive with the deceased wife, and vice versa. Of course, the wily Gimbo leaves poor Patrick in blissful ignorance of this important part of the marriage contract. After the marriage the Princess falls ill, and the exiled Prince Asan arrives disguised as a Dervish and discovers himself to the Princess. Eatima, the companion of the Princess, and Gimbo, form a plot to rid themselves of Bowbell and abolish the barbarous custom. The Princess feigns death, and poor Bowbell, having a decided objection to being buried alive with her, offers a large sum for a substitute, when one appears in the person of the disguised Prince, who is conducted to the tomb in solemn procession, amidst the lamentations of the bereaved King and sorrowing subjects, but to the relief of Patrick Bowbell who is in great glee at his lucky escape. While the people are still sorrowing for the supposed death of their beloved Princess, the doors of the mausoleum are thrown open and Prince Azau and the Princess appear. They come forward and beg the King to abolish the vile custom of the country. The old father promises to do so, gives them his blessing, and everything winds up as it should, to the satisfaction of all parties.

Incidental music and appropriate dresses have been especially arranged for this piece: the former by Sr. Rajneri, the latter by Mr. Pratessi.

LATEST FROM ROSARIO

(Our own Correspondent.)

There is something rotten if not in the state of Denmark at any rate in our Post Office, to which I would like to draw the attention of my old and esteemed friend, Mr. Olivera. I had an opportunity of being one of the first, if not the first, to send to the Standard a truthful account of the revolution in Cordova; I posted it here on the day following the revolution, so that you could publish it in your Sunday edition, and gain an editorial victory. It seems you never received it. Another letter on general subjects I posted on the 3rd inst. This also appears to have gone astray. For a long time the postal service between Rosario and Buenos Ayres has been rather satisfactory than otherwise, with the exception that the delivery is in a woeful state of unpunctuality. How is the disappearance of these two letters to be accounted for? I never keep any copy of my correspondence, so what is lost is lost to all posterity.

The junction between the Tucuman line of railway and the Central in Cordova is, as far as the permanent way is concerned, concluded; waggons of the Northern line have already entered the station of the Central, and are at present landing machinery for Tucuman. This will be satisfactory news for B. Ayres shippers to Tucuman and Salta.

Mr. Crawford has returned from England bringing with him five thorough-bred bulls. One of them is a prize animal with a pedigree as long as a German Duke's. They are safe ashore and are now quietly grazing the tender grass of Mr Barnett's estancia 'El Ombu,' about three leagues from town: they are brought out for this gentleman. Mr. Krell's sparrows did not fare so well; only three survived the voyage. By-the-bye, will our naturalist Mr. White settle a question we have here? The Rev. Mr Lett, who knows the Argentine Republic as well as most people, says that we have any number of sparrows indigenous to the country, only they go by another name. I always thought our pugnacious little friend was an alien where found in America.

The destruction of all the printing presses in Cordova, belonging to the Liberal party, brings grist to Rosario. Its an ill wind that blows nobody good. Our friend the Capital has been called on to fill the painful void occasioned by the sudden forced disappearance of the Eco of Cordova, and its subscription has sensibly increased since the barbarians of the City of Doctors declared war against types and printing presses. I wonder how the Beatas of Cordova can breakfast without their Eco; and I wonder still more that they have not scratched the Governor's eyes out. Mr. Oroño, I remember, was ousted from the governorship of this province by the women, on account of his famous Civil Matrimony Bill. If Dr Viso does not quickly restore the Eco to the devout lair sex of Cordova, I would not insure his permanence in office for more than a few weeks. His own wife and daughters will be up in arms against him. Dr. Luis Velez is not the man to allow such a golden opportunity to pass. He and his brother, D. Ignacio, are now before the pious and devout population of Cordoba as martyrs, and you'll find they will make capital out of it. Rosario appears to occupy the place of the still waters between two cataracts, the fierce effervescence of passions in Buenos Ayres on one side and the provinces on the other appear to subside on reaching Rosario. In the first place the material strength of the Government in armed men keeps down any revolutionary movement. In the second place there never has been any active sympathy for any of the candidates for the Presidency. Mr Tejedor was never a favorite here; and Gen. Roca is only known because the official people took him up. But I may safely say, that left to themselves the people would not trouble themselves to go to the polls for any candidate yet on the tapis. And from what I can understand it is much the same in the other provinces. There is no enthusiasm—there is a general feeling of 'laissez aller.' As for any combined opposition to the determined will of Buenos Ayres that is all nonsense; and very fortunate for the future of the country it is so. There is one name and one only that would awaken the enthusiasm of the people of the provinces, popular enthusiasm I mean, not that manufactured by the authorities. That name is Alberdi. There is throughout all the country a strong feeling of personal attachment to Alberdi, even amongst the lower orders. He is the only Argentine at the present moment that possesses any real popularity in the provinces; but I suppose there is some good reason why the parties do not make use of him.

I walked up the other day to a very interesting part of the town. Just outside the railway station there is a large space of the barranca filled up with establishments for shipping bones &c. The facilities for landing here are admirable. It is at this point where the Wheat Elevator is to be built; but as yet no signs of the foundation stone are visible. Here Messrs. Jewell accumulate such piles of bones as would lead one to suppose they had discovered the burying ground of the antediluvian world. At this part of the port we sometimes see as many as half a dozen ships loading at a time. The Lime Company has here its mole for shipping Cordova marble to Buenos Ayres. Here one sees huge piles of the beautiful granulated crystaline marble a pure carbonate of lime, and of a delicate pinkish hue; and we feel a kind of horror to think that this lovely stone is to be used only to burn into lime. What beatiful buildings and monuments it would make. All the public buildings of Washington are built of white marble; let us hope that the public buildings of the future capital in Rosario will be built of the much more magnificent rose colored marble of Cordovu. The Argentine capital would then be the admiration of the world.

Mr. Edward Jewell has brought safely from the Cape nine ostriches. They look rather scraggy and seatost, but I understand are in good health.

The bulls brought out by Messrs. Barnett and Crawford are amongst the most magnificent animals ever brought to this country.

Matchem took a prize at the Royal Show at Newry in August 1879—bred by Lord Clermont of Clermont Park. Got by Lord Seafield. Dam Matchless by Royal Windsor.

Royal Star bred by same nobleman, got by Royal Patron. Dam Favorite by Red Indian. Royal Star is brother by dam to Count Arnim, who was also bred there, and gained the first prize as a yearling at Belfast.

Brigadier, Cæsar and Punjaub, bred by Mr. Maxwell of Finnebro, all got by the famous Czarowitz 4th (No. 33497).

I have puzzled myself in understanding, or trying to understand the pedigrees of these fine animals. But it is not of the question. All I can say is that the number of Gs. signifying graud, take up half a line in each case, apparently reaching to affiliation with probably some of the patriarchs of Father Abraham's herds.

EDITOR'S TABLE.

We publish in another column the plot of one of the plays in the programme for St. Patrick's Day at the Opera House: the others will follow in due course, so that every spectator can take his seat with a full knowledge of the dramatic 'menu' to be laid before him. As regards the manner in which it will be served up, the names of the actors are a sufficient guarantee. We repeat our advice of yesterday to those who wish to secure boxes or seats for the great occasion—'Stand not upon the order of your going, but go at once,' to Messrs. Mackern's.

The quidnuncs were greatly exercised yesterday in endeavouring to find out particulars of what passed between President Avellaneda and Governor Tejedor on Thursday evening at the latter's private residence, and much disappointment ensued when it became known that the President's visit was purely one of courtesy, and that the conversation bore chiefly on the result of the Liverpool election and the state of the weather.

Talking of the Liverpool election, Mr Whitley, the Conservative candidate, won easily, as we announced some days ago. Over 50,000 votes were pulled out of 60,000 voters; 26,106 for Mr Whitley and 23,885 for Lord Ramsay, showing a majority of 2221 for the Tory. Although the victory is a very decided one for the Conservatives, it is poor in comparison with their previous one in the same city, when their man polled 4,393 votes over the Liberal candidate. The result of the present election shows what we have all known for some time past, viz, that a Liberal reaction is taking place in Great Britain and Ireland, but, so far as present appearances go, it is very doubtful if it will prove strong enough to carry that party back to power, or keep them there if they should manage to escape from the cold shade of Opposition in which they have been shivering so long, due solely to their weak-kneed foreign policy, for it can hardly be denied that they have the knack of managing home affairs better than their hereditary foes.

Havas's telegram from Paris which we published yesterday morning shows that events are hastening on to a 'difficulty' there. M. Freycinet's thick-and-thin declaration that, if the Ferry Bill to exclude the clergy from all participation in the education of youth is not passed, the Government will abolish all the religious orders at one swoop, will speedily bring matters to a crisis which may cut short with a sharp and decisive snap the career of the third French Republic.

Mr Moreno, the South American Livingstone, arrived at the Central Station from the far South on Thursday evening at 9½ o'clock. A dense crowd of savants, politicians, merchants, brokers, editors etc. filled the station, and when the train rolled slowly in there was a rush, amid tremendous 'vivas,' for the carriage in which Mr Moreno was seated. The scene that ensued baffles description. The dense mass swayed to and fro in prodigious excitement, and the distinguished traveller was literally borne along on the human wave to his residence, where the squeeze of his friends and admirers was ten times more severe than at the railway station. Gradually, however, it dawned on several in the crowd that it would be better taste to leave Mr. Moreno alone with the members of his family, and in about an hour the assemblage melted away. Mr M. and his companions escaped on a dark night, two days after the Indian orgy at which it was decided to sacrifice him. They got into an old, almost rotten skiff and pushed down the river through the whole night; at dawn they pulled their trail craft out of the water and hid themselves in a wood; at night they again embarked, but in the morning discovered that they were pursued; and they kept on for four days and nights more, when they reached a point of safety. We join heartily Mr. Moreno's legion of friends in warmly congratulating him on an escape in which he showed that he possesses the true stuff of an explorer—courage, combined with coolness and judgment.

The splendid dash of rain yesterday morning put everybody in good spirits. The last rose of summer will soon be left blooming alone. The 21st will be the first day of autumn.

'An Old Stager' suggested to us yesterday that in consequence of the difficulty about removing the trees in Plaza Victoria, to make room for the Exhibition building, the Committee would do well to change the venue to Paseo de Julio, a larger and much more appropriate site, affording from its proximity to the railway unrivalled facilities for delivering the goods, besides many other advantages too numerous to mention.

The Italians residents are getting up a grand procession for to-morrow, when they will place a funeral crown at the foot of Mazzini's statue in Paseo Julio.

The Southern Cross says the Festival of St. Patrick will be celebrated on the 17th inst. in the Merced Church, at 11 a.m. A special choir has been engaged, and a panegyric of the Saint will be preached. There will be a collection to defray the expenses. Whatever sum remains after the expenses are paid, will be sent to the Archbishop of Tuam for the poor of Connemara.

The Secretary of the St. Brendan's Irish Relief Fund requests us to say that, in consequence of the clergymen being much occupied on the Eve of St. Patrick's Day, there will be no Committee meeting until next day, 17th.

There is nothing fresh or important from Montevideo. Dr. Montero (father of the Minister) had his hand amputated on Tuesday owing to the tramway accident he met with last week.

Our latest advices from Rio Janeiro report the weather as something cooler and yellow fever slowly on the decline. The Emperor was to leave for Parana on the 4th inst.

The city of Buenos Ayres is threatened with a bread squeeze. The bakers have announced that they will strike if they are not allowed to sell bread by the lb. in future. As the Municipality will probably say 'non possumus' to this, if Mr. Bagley has biscuits let him prepare to sell them now. By the way, many people say that there are not enough 500 dollar prizes in his boxes now. Exquisite as these biscuits are, it is really wonderful how much their flavour improves when a crisp $500, or even $100, is found at the top of the box when opening it.

The news from Corrientes is of the most rose-coloured hue. Some lucky party at Itapua, while taking a morning walk, stumbled on a copper mine the ore from which gives 90 per cent of pure copper! (For the sake of a paltry 10 per cent the finder should not have stuck at boldly calling it pure copper). The old, old story that the mine was formerly worked by the Jesuits was at once set going about this astonishing mine.

IRISH RELIEF FUND.

March 11th, 1880.

To the Editor of the Standard,

Dear Sir,

From your editor's note, in yesterday's issue, I must conclude that our secretary is responsible for the omission of Mr Mara's name in the Carmen de Areco list of donations to the Irish Relief Fund. There is no necessity for showing that the mistake, wherever or however it occurred, was thoroughly unintentional.

I have to complain, though, that you printer took a liberty with my correspondence which your proof-reader did not correct.

In my manuscript, certainly, the word 'circumvecationary' did not occur. I should be very sorry to insinuate that in the distribution of any moneys sent to relieve the present distress in Ireland, care should be taken against 'circumvention.' I wrote 'circumlocutionary,' and believing that, as Chas. Dickens is so universally read, my application of that adjective would be readily caught and properly appreciated, I used the word advisedly.

Yours, &c.,

J. B. Leahy.

[Ed. Note—We much regret having put in our Rev. correspondent's letter a word he did not use; but the manuscript was so extremely difficult to decipher that the printer, the foreman and the proof-reader held a long consultation over the word in question, and Drs. Webster and Sullivan, through their well known dictionaries, were also called in, but neither of the words at issue is to be found in their pages; the votes being two to one in favour of the word published, it was adopted, but our correspondent will see that every effort was made to print his letter correctly. Coined words should always be written very plainly, to save mistakes].

The gold market rules flat and quiet, and a smaller business was done than yesterday. There is really very little to note about the market, if we except the rather general conviction that gold will not rise and that there is a superabundant supply in the market.

In mentioning the other day the balances held by the private banks in Europe we rather under-estimated that of one of our banks which instead of being £100,000 should be £200,000, and it is possible that with regard to the other banks we may have made equal mistake.

Gold opened at 30.25 and held there all day, but very little sold for cash. For the end of the month the chief business done. A large amount sold at 30.30, but closed at 30.35, having been done as high as 30.40. For April there are freer sellers, and sales made as low as 30.40, but closed at 30.45: and for end of May 30.55. A few days ago there was hardly to be found a seller for those dates, but the current has changed.

Cedulas advance fast and were done at 84½ buyers, few sellers. Treasury bills 78 and firm. National Bank shares better at 57, and new National Bonds that were bid or the other day at 75 and no seller, were to-day sold at 70; such is this market.

The gold sales were:—

At afterhours gold ruled slightly firmer, but nothing of importance done. Some strong sellers for April have changed the attitude of the market on time, and one of our principal brokers sold for end of April 200,000 pats, every dollar of which is for produce to be shipped.

In exchange the only thing of note is £10,000 stg. at 41d paper. As there is now no steamer until 18th inst. the Savoie, there will be a pause in the exchange market.

Freights very firm, no steamers no sailing vessels in port. We learn that there are only 55 ships in port at present against 261 same time in the year 1871; figures worth knowing.

Exchange in Rio is at 22⅜-½ and falling, Monday's date; sovereigns, price not known.

A meeting of the agents of various steam lines was held to-day at Sr Piaggio's office, to consider new rule about immigrants. Present the agents of following Companies—Allan Line, Chargeurs Reunis, Messageries Maritimes, Royal Mail, Lamport & Holt, Roque & Piaggio, Lavarello, and Marseilles Mathey Line.

The decree was read over, and objections made to the following—

Art. 3.—Inconvenient as to lowering immigrant flag.

Art. 4.—Whole article inconvenient.

Art. 5.—Inciso 4 ordering presentation of list inconvenient.

Art. 6.—Impossible.

Art. 13.—Not sufficiently explicit.

A Committee was then and there named to see the Minister, composed of Messrs. Christophersen, Mathey, H A Green, Sattler and Piaggio.

We heard on 'Change that the Government has fined the Cordillera one thousand fuertes for bringing passengers from Brazil, which seems to us simply impossible; the Cordillera is a common carrier in the eyes of international law, and could not refuse to take in passengers at Rio; if she did, the Brazilian authorities would fine her. The hitch is, the Government here has no accommodation for quarantine passengers, and the fine should be on the Government, not on the steamer. The Cordillera is also fined, they say, for bringing down a blind fiddler $100 fts. This is also very severe, since the fiddler can earn his bread the same as others. The whole matter calls for severe comment.

The most important news on 'Change was from London; another well known London Bank is about to open relations with this market, and soon we shall announce the agent here.

Coal very scarce, no Glasgow coal to be had, re-sellers ask 12 pats to arrive.

It is said that the first bales for the next steamer will be engaged at 3⅝ and 10 o/o.

The Provincial Bank discounted to-day 6½ millions currency.

Mr Heyworth, who has arrived down from the rivers, was welcomed on 'Change.

Mr Scharffenorth was warmly congratulated on the entry at Montevideo of the German s.s. Luxor so long a prize by the Peruvians at Callao.

In the wool markets but very little done, owing to the weather—

Messrs Duggan sold—
3,000 ar. fine wool at 125

And on 'Change we heard of—
1,000 ar. fine wool at 145
1,200 " 130
200 doz skins at 34 rls.

Advices from Europe report that resin has gone up and has doubled in price.

Exchange yesterday was done in Montevideo at 51½-⅝, francs 5.44. Rio 1o:85o. B. Aires ⅝

Advices from Chile report exchange on 25th at Valparaiso 36, and for francs 3.75; too many takers, and banks stopped drawing following day. Silver in bars, shipment to England, 11.15 per marco.

One of our bank managers has presented his claim to the Minister of Province about the non-payment of the coupons Municipal Bonds, which is really much to be regretted, as it is calculated to injure the credit of the Province that has guaranteed them. We hear the Minister says they will be paid in May.

Discount brokers report paper money somewhat easier.

The affair in Azul was talked of on 'Change; Col. Fotheringham's note explains the matter, it commands no market importance; the sooner the troops leave Azul the better.

Telegrams from Bordeaux announce stiff fall in maize and wheat.

Politics are in a state of incubation, conferences, interviews and telegrams; the split between Governor and Chambers is they say on 'Change being arranged.

Advices from the South are not favorable. About Las Flores the cattle and sheep are suffering from a strange disease. The fatter cows fall victims; the cure employed is ½ vinegar, ½ quart water and 1 lb. salt. On one of the estancias about 20 head of cattle died in one day.

The sale of 8,000 sheep in the West 'al corto' is reported at $39 m/c; also 1,000 novillos in 25 May at $950 m/c.

There was nothing newer to-day in the way of produce telegrams than published this morning. The long looked for American mails arrived to-day per Calderon, and the letters and paper s received are most important. We note that Messrs Bowes & Co. speaking of the sheepskin market says:—

"The position of sheepskins has been materially improved by the further advance which has occurred in the value of roans; this article now stands at a point higher than it reached even in 1872; it has advanced 40 per cent since November, and a standard grade which sold at 6d per skin in June, is now worth 18d, the rise in value being equivalent to 1½d per lb in the first cost of the sheepskins. A glance at the following figures will show that the fellmonger is at present in a better position than at any time for a year past:—

Skins, invoices of Buenos Aires	Dates of auction. 1879. Jan. 14.	1880. Jan. 7.
matadero, full-woolled per lb.	6d	7½d
Roans, a standard grade p. skin	6d	16d
Pulled B. Aires wool, 1st combing per lb.	17½d	21½d
Buenos Aires wool, unwashed average per lb.	5½d	7d
Port Philip wool, do do	11½d	13½d

In our leading columns will be found some remarks on the recent public land auction held by Mr Ocampo, and which was to-day the talk of all the Bolsa. There never was a more opportune time for parties with a little capital to start a sheep or cattle farm than at present; it is as clear as noon day that in a few years no estanciero will be able to start an estancia, cattle or sheep, for even double the money that the business can be begun to-day. Everything conspires to show us that we are on the eve of a new turn in the Plate, and let us but get over this Presidential election in peace, and the improvement of which we catch a glimpse will prove a reality. Only the other day we mentioned the fact of a Scotchman who had come up from Patagones, and who about 8 years ago bought a square league of land down there for 60,000 m/c payable in 8 years, and 2,000 sheep to begin with; his total capital at starting we estimate as follows:—

Ten per cent down on land	6,000
Rancho &c.	10,000
2,000 sheep	60,000
50 cows and a few horses	10,000
$ m/c.	86,000

This property to-day gives our friend a rental over and above all expenses of from £1,200 to £1,600 stg. a year. Now we wish to know the name of any other country on the habitable globe that can show anything to rival this and this is not by any means a solitary case; we can point to a magnificent estancia in the South West bought about 8 years ago, stock and land for say £40,000, the purchaser never disbursed a farthing; the day the boleto was signed he borrowed the money, and the estancia paid interest and amortization &c. until it completely paid off the whole amount, and to-day gives a clear rental of £20,000 per annum to the lucky purchaser. These are not solitary cases, we could point to 500 others, good land and good stock will pay for everything with a little care and industry. The River Plate is not New Zealand, and a sheepfarmer to-day bought a prime piece of land in Suypacha at a price we are afraid to publish; he knows what he is about and prefers his ½ league in Suypacha to 20 square leagues in Corrientes. The Ocampo land sale proves what for long years we have been writing, but who believed us?

After the sailing of the Maskelyne yesterday afternoon there is not a single steamer on the berth for Havre or Antwerp, an event which has not occurred before at any period in the present season. We shall, however, have in a few days the steamer Halley for Antwerp and the Liscano and Rivadavia for Havre. Freights are firm at 30 shillings Antwerp, 30 fos. Havre in each case with 10 o/o primage. Sailing ships are also scarce, particularly those of a size suitable for salted hides. Only three ships have entered our port during the last eleven days. In February not more than three foreign sailing ships entered the Boca, and none this month. Yesterday the river was exceedingly low. Shortly after midday the Brazilian steamer Rio Apa entered from Montevideo bound for Asuncion and Corumba, and having in tow a chata with large boiler and sugar machinery to be erected at Asuncion.

The following passengers arrived at Montevideo from the West Coast in the Valparaiso—

From Callao—Juan Juxe, Mauro Escureno and other, P Antonio, A Bouse, A Rojen.

From Valparaiso—Ramon Subucasreaux and wife, W Errazuu, N Sallenge, V de B Valdes wife and 2 more, Martinez Sale, Francisco Baerben, Cipriano Albion, F Jasard and other, Juan Ojeda, Rosa Suerren, G Yuguen, and D Jeanini.

Our advices this morning from Montevideo report a sharp reaction in the price of wheat there. The tumble was so sharp in Plaza Sarandi that there was a 'stand from under' feeling amongst buyers and brokers. The panic was so great that consignees could not effect sales, but as the stock is small and no arrivals are looked for, the most experienced dealers expect a prompt rebound in prices. The export market was very dull yesterday and little or nothing done, 1500 salted hides 62 lbs guaranteed, were sold at 7-40 on board, and another large sale from a city saladero was spoken of, but the terms were very much reserved. The Jemima was chartered to load a hide cargo for the Channel at 30s and 5 o/o. Some 20,000 Extraordinary Loan Scrip changed hands at 3⅛, dividend to bayer, for 24th. Some garras were sold at 1.20, and a few arr. of wool at 2.85 in barraca. One barraca was swept clean of sheepskins at $2.20 and $1 for picados per dozen. The Portuguese brig Libador was chartered to load beef at Concordia for Brazil at 4½, 5½ and 6½ and 5 o/o, and the Casilla same cargo for same destination at same rates. The Valparaiso embarked 9 cases of auriferous quartz, supposed to be from Canapiru, for Europe.

The following respecting the great business now doing in Australian fresh meat has been handed us for publication:—

"The Post declares that the arrival of the steamer Strathleven with a quantity of fresh meat from Australia, the first successful importation of the kind from that part of the world, is an event of the utmost importance to the antipodean colonies, and it may not be without a marked influence upon our home meat producing and consuming interests. The amount that has been brought over is not very large, consisting of the carcases of some 60 or 70 bullocks and of upwards of 500 sheep, with a couple of tons of butter; but it effectually disposes of any doubts that existed as to the possibility of fresh meat being introduced from such a distance as 13,000 miles, and encountering the heat of the tropics, without deterioration. It is true that the Strathleven has arrived in the winter, and that her voyage up the Red Sea was performed in the coldest time of the year; but when she left Sydney and Melbourne in the early part of December the heat of a Southern summer was then felt, and for the first three weeks of her voyage the weather was as warm as at midsummer in our own climate, so that we may well expect that the arrangements which have so successfully answered on the present occasion will be found equally effectual in a much hotter period of the year in the Northern hemisphere. The experiment is thoroughly satisfactory, and the colonists who have been watching the result with the deepest interest, will rejoice to learn that there is no longer a doubt as to the accomplishing that which they have been hoping for a number of years, viz., being able to send a portion of their inexhaustible flocks and herds, in the shape of fresh butchers' meat, to the European market."

Copy of Analysis by Professor Kyle.

National College, Buenos Ayres, November 29th 1879.

Messrs. M. Forrester & Co., Buenos Ayres.

Gentlemen—I haveat your request made a careful examination of he sample of JEYES'S SHEEP DIP you handed to me on the 18th inst. I find it to be a well made preparation of Phenols and other Tar products, combined with soap, retaining the liquid form and easily mixible with water, from which it does not afterwards separate.

The proportion of active ingredients amounts to rather over 80 per cent. it is free from Mineral Poisons and from Caustic Alkalies. In my opinion it is well worth the attention of Sheepfarmers, and will be found by them to be convenient, safe, and I do not doubt, very efficacious as a Sheep Dip. From the readiness with which the preparation can be mixed with cold water it ought to prove most acceptable as a domestic disinfectant, being more convenient than crude Carbolic Acid or the disinfectant powders so frequently employed.

I am, Gentlemen, your obedient servant,
JOHN J. J. KYLE, Professor of Chemistry.

Extracts from Testimonials

From Mr. Alex. Stewart, Bailiff to H. D. Pochin, Esq. Rodnent Hall. Wales—

"The Sheep Dip is the best that I have ever used. I have not seen a single Maggot on any of the Sheep since we used it. The wool looks beautiful, and to all appearance improved in quality. I feel satisfied it will be an invaluable boon to our large Sheepfarmers in the Colonies, and it only wants to be appreciated."
